Successful Businessman Unveils a Glimpse of the Future
Says America must retain its leadership position in the world

LONGWOOD, FL—Many people believe or want to believe that certain people get glimpses of the future. Xulon author G.A. Freiman is one such person; as he was shown through his faith what is really important to us and our country, he began developing a book to share his findings with the world. The writing of Current Events, Conservative Outcomes: Predictions for America's Future (paperback, 978-1-60477-599-0) culminated in a changed way of looking at the world for Freiman, as he transformed from a realist to a believer. The author says there are many conservative books that have been written, but that none of them back up conservative doctrine with predictions and explain “why” things occur.

Says Freiman, “It is America’s conservative values and close relationship with God that has directly led to America’s success as a nation and it is crucial for Americans to understand this relationship. Readers will get a good look at America’s future and understand how they can ensure America retains our leadership position in the world.”

Freiman’s book is a deep look into America and the pressing issues of our time. Freiman divides his book into seven topics: terrorism, world issues, US politics, US social issues, personal issues, American culture and God. Each section of the book is subdivided by Freiman into the pivotal issues that will determine the fate of the United States.

A very successful businessman with a deep passion and love for the United States, the author was brought up modestly in the South and has a belief that Americans are among the chosen people in our world. Freiman had an interesting path to his faith. Discovering an uncanny ability as a young boy that allowed him to accurately predict future events also greatly complicated his course to God. He has predicted the outcomes of the most difficult topics our country faces as a way to provide guidance in the troubled times in which we live.
